In conclusion, your committee cannot too highly commend what has seemed to them the marked and distinguishing features of this institution, the happy combination of the military system of instruction with the departments of science and of literary culture, and the more embedding culture of the heart and soul. Nowhere eigh have we seen this combination so complete and perfect. We cannot speak of it too highly. It is such a system as fits a pupil for life and for death. Sunday-School Pic-Nic. - The Swans boro' Sunday school, of Chesterfield, gave a pic-nic Tuesday at Richasond View, on the River road, about one mile and a half from this city. A pleasant time was spent, and the party returned home late in the afternoon. This school has been organized but a few months only, and has a very large membership. Mr. B. A. Hancock is superintendent.

The Free Bridge. - There has been con-siderable travel over the Free bridge lately, not withstanding its condition. It is hoped that the bridge will soon be put in good repair. Under the present state of things no money can be obtained either from Richmond or Manchester for repairing the bridge unless the county of Chesterfield agrees to appropriate one third of the
